

GROUP

HIKANOS PRIVACY POLICY

WWW.HIKANOS.COM

Ensuring client's privacy is one of the priorities of the Company. For this reason, we have developed the Privacy Policy, which describes how we collect, use, disclose, transfer and store your personal information. The purpose of this policy is to increase the client's awareness regarding the processing and protection of their personal information when using the Company's website.

1. CLIENTS' PROVISION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

- 1.1. When registering on the Company's website, the user provides the following personal information: name, surname, e-mail, mobile and password. It is mandatory to fill all the fields of the registration form on the Company's website.
- 1.2. When a client uses the functionality of the website under the personal back office, we can additionally gather the following information: date of birth, country, city, postal address, zip code and bank details for the transfer of funds to the client's bank account.

2. USE OF CLIENT PERSONAL INFORMATION

- 2.1. Personal of clients is directly used to provide the Company's clients with products and services, since the provision of products and services without these data is impossible.
- 2.2. Personal information, obtained by us, may be used for the purpose of informing our clients about the new products and services offered, as well as about any updates of the website functionality. In addition, it helps us to quickly and confidentially interact with the clients and to improve the quality of products and services.
- 2.3. The collected data can also be used for internal purposes such as auditing, analytical data processing and assessment of the quality of products and services.

3. DISCLOSURE OF CLIENTS PERSONAL INFORMATION

- 3.1. The Company undertakes not to disclose the personal information received from the clients.
- 3.2. It shall not be considered a violation of the obligations if the Company provides information to the websites of partner companies, Company agents and third parties, acting under Agreement with the Company, for the performance obligations to the client

- 3.3. Disclosure of information in accordance with the valid and applicable legal requirements shall not be considered a violation of the obligations.

4. PROTECTION OF CLIENTS PERSONAL INFORMATION

- 4.1. The Company pays particular attention to protecting the personal information of clients. We use the most modern methods of protection, including technical and organizational ones. Attention is paid to both the protection of personal information on the Company's web servers and the protection from unauthorized access to personal back office of clients on the Company's website.
- 4.2. Clients shall be solely responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of their authentication data. The Company shall not be responsible for any transactions performed as a result of the clients' improper storage or loss of their authentication data.

5. USE OF NON-PERSONAL INFORMATION

- 5.1. The Company is entitled to collect information about the clients' IP-addresses, from which the Company's website pages are requested. This data is used to analyze the number of visits and the locations of clients. In addition, the clients' IP-address information is used for statistical purposes and for improving the website functionality, as well as for enhancing its safety. This information does not allow to identify the subject to which the data can belong to, therefore it does not belong to personal information.

6. USE OF "COOKIES"

- 6.1. The Company is entitled to use "cookies". This technology helps us to understand client's behavior and to determine which website pages have been requested by the clients' and which ones are the most popular. In addition, this technology contributes to and measures the effectiveness of advertising and search engines.
- 6.2. "Cookies" must be enabled in a client's browser to use all features of our website. Otherwise, the authorization on
The website is impossible.

7. NOTIFICATION OF CHANGES

Due to the development of the Company and ~~the Company's product and~~ services, this Privacy Policy may undergo certain changes. The Company reserves the right to change the Privacy Policy without prior notice to its clients. The Company undertakes to post new Privacy